RESEARCH ACTIVITY

A brief summary

A prominent figure in the international community of category theory, often involved in the running of the International Conference on Category Theory. In the early 1980's, the Ph.D. thesis "Continuity and Effectiveness in Toposes" proposed a way to develop partiality within a topos introducing the abstract notion of dominance which is now a standard tool. An important example was the effective topos—an elementary topos which was first presented by M. Hyland, obtained by extending Kleene's realizability. In the following years, the research performed in Cambridge under the direction of M. Hyland with E. Robinson was on the discrete objects in the effective topos which provided the first instance of a non-trivial internal complete category in a (necessarily non-Grothendieck) topos. That category proved to be a useful case study for the semantics of type theory as well as of several programming languages. The characterization of the effective topos as the exact completion of the category of recursive families of sets, obtained in collaboration with E. Robinson, started also a scientific collaboration with A. Carboni which contributed to the clarification of the paradigm "proposition-as-types" and produced important results about the connection between category theory and constructive mathematics. The research with Carboni constituted a central part in several projects funded both nationally and internationally. Recent work with several collaborators (most prominently M.E. Maietti and J. Emmenegger) on Lawvere's hyperdoctrines is attracting world-wide attention on the new approach it provides to logic.
